Newsletter

September 2022 Cardiac Support Group

Dear Members and Friends September 2022

September newsletter, as always must enquire if you have been keeping safe and well during the past few weeks.

I am afraid that July and August have been without doubt the my worse for many years as my dear wife Maureen has been in Whips X Hospital for the past four weeks and was allowed out on Thursday 18th August in a state of hospital syndrome unable to walk without assistance of a porter, and I am still trying to get help from a district nurse to attend the dressing for a serious hematoma on her leg. Also for the past eleven days I have been on lockdown with Covid 19, I am pleased to say I now feel well enough resume my duty as 24/7 carer for Maureen.

As I was unable to attend the Memorial service to celebrate the life of George Scott. I was informed by his daughter Jackie that forty people attended unfortunately the King of Hearts was not represented. So I have been in touch with Jackie to offer an apology on behalf of the group, my e-mail was accepted gratefully by her, she understood the situation of our members and invited us to visit the site where George and Trish's ashes are scattered, and if any member wishes to contact Jackie her phone number is (01992 890986 or 07966 310005.)

I have been in with touch Leslie Ashworth the wife of our dear friend Brian Ashworth regarding any donations collected on behalf of Brian and she was pleased that any money collected be donated to the King of Hearts in his name. I will put this request to the next committee meeting for an official vote of thanks.

As I was unable to attend the August meeting I would like to thank all the committee for running the meeting in my absence well done please accept my thanks.

I hope that this newsletter finds our good friend Alan Banner back to his usual good health as he and Angela have been sorely missed at our meetings.

I look forward seeing you all at the September 14th meeting but as always I wish you all well.

Best wishes and stay safe

Annabel's Story

Mother of three, having been pestered to death by her children for a pet, finally cracked and acquired a lovable rabbit named Fred. Fred was docile soft and fluffy, came fully house trained, and was content to hop peacefully around Annabel's house and garden. In short Fred was everything you would want from a rabbit.

The honeymoon period was soon over. One day, whilst attempting to feed her ten month old baby with one hand, defrost a loaf of bread in the oven with the other, and prevent Fred from chewing through some wiring near the floor, Annabel scooped the pesky rabbit up, unceremoniously dumped him in his cage, bunged the bread in the oven and continued unfazed.

Several minutes later, another of her children,. Alice, appeared, to query tearfully why there was a loaf of bread in Fred's cage? And where was Fred.

At this point Annabel's entire life flashed before her eyes and she began to suffer olfactory hallucinations as her nostrils filled with the sweet odour of roasted rabbit. To her utter amazement her son Hamish then ran into the kitchen with Fred, totally unharmed under his arm, Crying tears of relief, Annabel hugged first her son, then her daughter. When she was sufficiently calm Annabel remembered the oven, if it wasn't Fred in there who or what was?

Gingerly, she opened the oven door only to be greeted by a cloud of black smoke and the charred remains of a single fluffy slipper.
