September 10th Sam Wesel Talk on Rehab.

Dear Members and Friends September 2025

Welcome to my September newsletter and I hope that you are all well and still enjoying the warm weather long may it continue.
At our August meeting we were let down by our speaker due to ill health however the meeting went well on a low profile basis when we chatted amongst ourselves,
I was pleased that our dear secretary Durham was able to be with us it was good to see you Durham.
Due to ill health our dear friend Karen was unable to attend, also another dear friend Janet Knight was also not well enough to be with us Peter Knight informed me about Janet and he was hopeful that they would be at the September meeting,
I am sure the group members look forward seeing Karen, Janet, and Peter on the 10th September.
I was pleased to see our good friends Angela and Alan Banner at our August meeting, and I would like to thank the committee members and Angela for providing our refreshments.
Also at the August meeting I meet with a good friend Sam Wesel who runs the re-hab 3 classes in the swimming pool gym, I invited him to give the group a talk about the need for rehab after having heart surgery, he has agreed to attend our September meeting to give this talk.
I look seeing you all at our September 10th meeting, best wishes and stay well and safe.

An Absent mindedness of mathematics professor Norbert Wiener has provided fund anecdotes. One tells how he was sitting in the campus lounge at the Massachusetts Institute of technology, intensely studying a paper on the table. Several times he stood up and paced around before returning to the paper, his face a picture of concentration. Everyone present was impressed by how obviously dedicated he was to his work. Then he stood up once more and this time collided with a student who responded with, Good afternoon Professor Wiener. Wiener stopped in his tracks. Stared in wonderment, clapped a hand to his forehead and declared, Wiener! That's the word! He ran back to the table to fill the word `wiener in the crossword puzzle that was his doing.

Then there was a time when he went to a conference and parked his car in a large lot. When the conference was over. He had also forgotten what his car looked like. So he waited until all the other cars were driven away and then took the one that was left.

On the other occasion, Wiener drove over 100 miles to a mathematics conference at Yale University. By the end of the conference, he had completely forgotten that he had come by car and instead travelled home by bus. The next morning, he went out to his garage, saw that it was empty. And phoned the police to report that somebody had stolen his car while he had been away.
